

Agree, Disagree, and Add Your Opinion in English

English Café Live Class – Summary

1. Why Opinions Matter

Good conversations aren't just about asking questions. They become real and interesting when you also share your ideas.

👉 3 simple ways to contribute:

- Agree
 - Disagree (politely)
 - Add Your Opinion

2. 10 Phrases You Can Use

Agreeing

1. I agree.
2. That's true.
3. Exactly.
4. I think so too.

Disagreeing (polite)

5. I'm not sure about that.
6. Maybe, but I think...
7. I see it differently.
8. Not really.

Adding Your Opinion

9. In my opinion...
 10. For me, I think...

3. 5 Practice Statements

1. Pizza is the best food in the world.

- Agree → I agree. It's delicious and you can put almost anything on it.
- Disagree → I'm not sure about that. For me, pasta is better.
- Add Opinion → In my opinion, pizza is great, but it's not healthy every day.

2. Movies are better than books.

- Agree → Exactly. Movies bring stories to life with sound and pictures.
- Disagree → Not really. Books give more detail and imagination.
- Add Opinion → For me, I think both are good, but books stay in my memory longer.

3. Social media is good for learning languages.

- Agree → That's true. You can find free resources and real conversations online.
- Disagree → I see it differently. It can be distracting instead of helpful.
- Add Opinion → In my opinion, social media is useful if you use it with focus.

4. Speaking English is harder than listening.

- Agree → I think so too. It's difficult to find the right words quickly.
- Disagree → Maybe, but I think listening is harder because people speak fast.
- Add Opinion → For me, I think both are hard, but speaking gets easier with practice.

5. Confidence is more important than grammar.

- Agree → Exactly. If you're confident, people understand you even with mistakes.
- Disagree → I'm not sure about that. Grammar helps you avoid confusion.
- Add Opinion → In my opinion, confidence helps you use the grammar you already know.

4. Practice Role Play

1. Partner A: Give an opinion → "I think weekends are too short."
2. Partner B: Must agree, disagree, or add an opinion.
3. Switch roles.

4. Keep going until you use all three skills: agree, disagree, add.

5. This Week's Challenge

In the next 7 days, agree or disagree with at least 3 people in English.

👉 Write down your sentences or share them in the English Café community.

6. Final Reminder

Confidence in English isn't about being perfect.

It's about sharing your own ideas.

Agreeing, disagreeing, and adding opinions makes conversations:

✦ Natural

✦ Confident

✦ Real
